This past Wednesday we welcomed Laconia Police Lieutenant Chris Adams (on the left) along with Chief Mike Moyer (on the right). First of all we talked to Chief Moyer's recently announced upcoming retirement along the appointment of Lt. Adams as Chief. We went on to discuss their crime prevention recommendations for Elders. We are very fortunate in that the Laconia Police Department has for as long as I can remember (about 30 years) been wonderful to work with for all kinds of issues involving older citizens. You can find more about our interview on our website and/or Facebook – but one point Chief Moyers emphasized was to never ever send anyone you do not know money via Western Union or Money Order!

The week before Karmen Gifford, Executive Director of the Lakes Region Chamber of Commerce was our guest and Karmen let us know all about the many things that the Chamber has going on. I was surprised at broad a service are the Chamber covers! Volunteers are needed by the Chamber and you can always find out more by giving Karmen a call at 524-5531

QUOTE OF THE DAY.....

WORD OF THE DAY.....

Canoodle \kuh-NOO-dul\ verb

: to engage in amorous embracing, caressing, and kissing

Chaperones watched for couples attempting to sneak under the gymnasium's bleachers to canoodle.

"The honeymooners are ubiquitous. They cuddle on the beaches, and they maneuver kayaks across the clear, turquoise waterways. They hold hands and canoodle at dinner in dimly lit restaurants." -- From an article by Ron Donoho in San Diego Magazine, January 2009

The origins of "canoodle" are obscure. Our best guess is that it may come from an English dialect noun of the same spelling meaning "donkey, fool, or foolish lover," which itself may be an alteration of the word "noodle," meaning "a foolish person." That "noodle" in turn may come from "noddle," a word for the head. The guess seems reasonable given that, since its appearance in the language around the mid-19th century, "canoodle" has been most often used jocularly for playful public displays of affection by couples who are head over heels in love.

THE LAST WORD.....

We still have room! Don't be put off by rumors of long wait lists! Give me a call to find out what is available! We have one very large apartment available with absolutely no entrance fee that could be the perfect option for someone who has a particular design in mind and wants to be at the top of the list to get it. It is also a great option for those whose long term future plans might still be up in the air.

If you have a friend or family member experiencing memory loss or who has Alzheimer's Disease you really should stop by to talk to us about The GARDENS which provides a warm, friendly, safe and affordable option. We don't take the place of family – we work with families in providing for their loved ones. Ours is a very unique setting that you need to see to appreciate. Our Colony Day Program might be the perfect way to give us a try. Whether you choose once a week or everyday --- we can provide care on a daily basis at rates that cannot be beat!
